2017

A bride with her hair styled in a high bun, wearing a white lace wedding dress and a floral headband, is adjusting her headband in a mirror. The background is softly blurred, showing a smiling person in the foreground.

The Story of Your Wedding Day

From the excitement of getting ready, to the joy you'll feel after the ceremony, and the celebrations with family and friends to follow ... I'm going to capture it all.

The big moments of a wedding are important must-have shots, but it's the other little things that happen in-between that I love the most.

These often overlooked details and fleeting or spontaneous moments are what make your wedding day real ... a unique and intimate story.

Love Notes from My Couples

Michelle is not only an amazingly talented photographer, she is also amazingly lovely. From the get-go we felt so comfortable around Michelle and knew we were in the greatest of hands to provide us with breathtaking memories which we will treasure forever.

Shae and Will Bradley

As soon as we saw Michelle's website, we knew she had to be our wedding photographer! We honestly couldn't be any happier with our wedding photos - they are just perfect.

Michelle is so professional and friendly, and so supportive in making us feel comfortable in front of a camera on our big day. We cannot speak highly enough of Michelle and her work! We are so glad that we have such beautiful photos to look at for the rest of our lives.

Simone and Bess Lorton

It took me a while to find the right person to do our wedding photography. But when I met Michelle, her kind hearted nature made me feel so comfortable that from this point she was my lady. We could not be any happier with our photos. She captured all of our special moments, and I truly love every single photo!

Kody Huisintveld

Michelle captured absolutely beautiful memories of our wedding. I'm so proud to show them off and after over a year of being married, I can still look back and remember wonderful moments of our special day from a single photograph!
